

To Whom it May Concern,

By way of introduction, my name is Janet Spruill, and together with my Deputy, Brian Holmes, I am serving this year as the Chair for the 2020 RADM Fred Lewis Postgraduate Scholarship program and the Leonard P. Gollobin Graduate Scholarship program, sponsored by the National Training and Simulation Association (NTSA). This is our 30th year providing these scholarships as part of the Interservice/Industry Training, Simulation and Education Conference (I/ITSEC). I/ITSEC is one of the largest and most respected conferences on modeling, simulation, and educational technologies. This year we are pleased to again offer scholarships at the Masters level in the amount $5,000 and at a Doctoral level in the amount of $10,000.

The scholarships are offered to stimulate student interest and university participation in preparing individuals for leadership in the Modeling & Simulation, Training and Education communities. By investing in our future workforce, these scholarships encourage expansion of the I/ITSEC community and promote innovation through direct investment in our community's future leaders. The scholarship recipient(s) will be invited to attend I/ITSEC '20 (November 30 through December 4, 2020) at the expense of the I/ITSEC organization, where he or she will be recognized, view the latest in simulation, training and education technologies and meet leaders from Government, Industry and Academia associated with this community.

Please help us pass the word to your student body, as we hope to have a diverse pool of candidates from which to choose. All pertinent application information can be found at <http://www.iitsec.org/education/studentsandteachers/Pages/Scholarships.aspx>. The deadline for submitting application packages is 26 June and awardees will be notified by August 7th. Funds will be made available in time for the Fall 2020 term.

Thank you for your support. If you have any questions, or if you need additional information, feel free to contact me or Brian directly.

Sincerely,
